JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1904.

YATES AND LOWDEN MEN

ARE TOGETHER ON TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION

Speaker Cannon Will be Temporary and Permanent Chairman—Spilled Arrangements at Convention Hall.

Springfield, May 10.—All candidates for places on the Republican state ticket are here to day and incoming delegates are rapidly filling the hotels. Gossip nearly all relates to combinations that are expected to be made for the convention organization and for naming the head of the ticket. The consensus of opinion just now is that Yates, Lowden and Warner will control both the organization and nomination.

By a vote of 25 to 9 the state central committee early this afternoon decided to send the Yates delegates from Sangamon county in the temporary organization. The Yates and Lowden men on the committee voted together as it has been expected they would.

The action of the state central committee this morning clearly demonstrates a working agreement between the two candidates on questions of organization.

Yates men on the committee and Lowden men voted together clear through the piece.

The state central committee to day has seated the organization men in every instance. There are 112 of them. All of them are either for Yates or Lowden. On all questions of organization and control they will, however, vote as a unit.

The Yates-Lowden men will control a majority of the congressional districts and name a majority of the credentials committee in the caucuses Thursday morning.

This credentials committee will follow the work done by the state committee. It will practically endorse to day's decision in all the contests. The credentials committee will then make its report to the convention.

The 112 organization delegates being seated the work of naming a ticket will commence. Then will come the game of battle.

THE CONVENTION HALL.

The final touches have been given to the preparations of the convention hall. All the chairs have been arranged and the platforms are now in position. An immense stage with wings to hold five or six hundred distinguished men has been erected in the north end of the arsenal. Immediately in front is the platform for the press writers and artists. This will have accommodations for sixty-four men, and only those who have to share will be permitted here. Each man will be given a ticket corresponding with his place at one of the tables and no one but these ticket holders will be permitted on the platform. This is done to give the newspaper men room and some chance to do their work unhindered. The work of a newspaper man on such an occasion is trying under the best conditions and the committees this year have tried to make them comfortable. For other members of the press who are not required to hustle, space has been reserved in the gallery directly opposite the speaker. This is the most advantageous position in the hall. The chairman and the secretaries of the convention will work in the front of the press platform.

The telephone offices are located in the towers at the north end of the building. Telephone booths have been erected in the rear of the platform.

The assignment of the delegations to seats in the hall began this morning. The Twenty-fifth congressional district to the seats directly in front of the speaker. To his left and separated from the Twenty-fifth district by an aisle is Adams county, the first on the roll call. White feathers with the name of the county is fastened to each chair. The congressional district will be designated by standards erected on poles in the aisles.

The portion allotted to the delegates requires the center of the hall. On each side of the delegates block are blocks for visitors and the public and in about half of the room the entire width is left to the south of the delegate block. The galleries except that portion set aside to the press, will be open to the public. Admission will be by ticket at the south entrance to the building. Room is also reserved for the bands.

Altogether the arrangements are the best any state convention in Illinois has ever enjoyed.

The indications are for a week of fair, cool weather, which will not be the least pleasurable feature. The arsenal will be a delightful place with its perfect ventilation and flood of light.

YATES OR LOWDEN.

According to the reported agreement Yates is to have all the counties in contest except Rock Island, Clinton and Marion, these going to Lowden. This would give Yates 78 and Lowden 31 of the contested delegates. The Yates counties being Sangamon, Fayette, Montgomery, Randolph, Fulton, Greene, Cumberland and Johnson.

It is admitted the combination will be able to seat the contested delegations not only temporarily, but permanently.

While the alliance at present is confined only to the organization, it is admitted an attempt will probably be made to apply it to the nomination of the gubernatorial candidate. If this is successful the nomination will go to either Yates or Lowden. The opposition do not admit such an alliance will succeed.

Speaker Cannon will be both temporary and permanent chairman of the convention.

FOUND DEAD.

Chicago, May 10.—Edward Jarnigan, manager of the western business of the Potter Wall Paper company, and his bride of less than five months were found dead this afternoon lying side by side on a bed in their home. They had evidently been dead at least eighteen hours. It is believed they died from poisoned food after becoming ill and lying down on the bed.

NO REVOLUTION.

Port au Prince, Hayti, May 10.—Reports that a revolution has broken out in Hayti are false. The republic is quiet.

THE METHODISTS

Time of Conference Taken Up by Addresses of Fraternal Delegates.

Los Angeles, May 10.—The sixth day's session of the general conference of the Methodist church was mostly taken up by addresses by fraternal delegates. No business other than presentation of a few resolutions and their reference to committees was taken up. A few of the more important committees held meetings this afternoon, but a majority of the delegates visited points of interest in the immediate vicinity of the city.

WILL DO AS ORDERED.

Washington, May 10.—It is said the two United States warships which have been ordered to Chesapeake Bay will act under instructions suggested by the American minister and consul at New Chang. It is believed to be desirable not to advance the ships from this nearest neutral port into the theatre of war without grave reasons. The captains of the ships, therefore, will communicate with Minister Conger, who in turn is expected to communicate with Consul Miller at New Chang, though how he is to do this in event telegraph lines are broken is not suggested here.

ILL HEALTH CAUSED SUICIDE.

St. Louis, May 10.—Capt. Walter Allen of St. Louis, connected with the world's fair Jefferson guards, shot and killed himself in a room in the dormitory of Washington university, now utilized by the exposition. He left a note stating ill health had driven him to commit suicide. A wife and two children survive him.

NO SIGNS OF POISON.

Belleville, Ill., May 10.—A test for poison in food was made in Justice Candary's court to day, which resulted in the acquittal of John A. Fletcher, who was arrested and charged with having prepared food to cause the death of members of his household. The test was made at the suggestion of Fletcher's attorney and consisted in having Fletcher eat a dish of beans and drink a cup of coffee submitted as evidence. He ate the beans and swallowed the coffee and showed no signs of illness and was discharged.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and can safely be given the children. Sold by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

ENGAGE IN BATTLE AGAIN

SEVERE FIGHT BETWEEN JAPS AND RUSSIANS

Japanese Troops Now Within Short Distance of New Chwang—Communication With Port Arthur Restored.

ENGAGEMENT REPORTED.

Shan Hai Kwan, May 10.—It is reported the first Japanese army corps, having followed Russians retreating from the Yalu river, overtook them twenty miles south of Liao Yang yesterday and a severe engagement ensued. The Japanese dragged their guns up hills believed to be unsurmountable, the Russians thereupon continued to retreat north. A division of the first corps is approaching New Chwang, which is now garrisoned by a handful of Russians. Japanese agents have been seen six miles south of New Chwang. Nineteen women were the last civilians to leave New Chwang for Shan Hai Kwan. They arrived here to night and confirmed reports of the evacuation of New Chwang.

AT NEW CHWANG.

New Chwang, May 9.—(Delayed in transmission) Of five regiments which were in the garrison here four have left and the other received orders to go to day, but the order was cancelled an hour later. Russians are strongly entrenched at Anlung, where guns from New Chwang will be sent. Russians are known to be communicating with Chinese brigands and to be stirring up a state of terror with the natives.

COMMUNICATION RESTORED.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—Victory Alexieff telegraphed the emperor as follows: "During the night of May 9, railroad communications with Port Arthur were restored. The telegraph line is being repaired."

The action of the Russian government in declaring cotton to be contraband of war is due to its being used to manufacture high explosives.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—The admiralty declares positively the destruction of the armored cruiser Rurik is false.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—A semi-official dispatch from Mukden dated to day declares reports that Japanese have captured Port Duhay.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—An imperial order declaring cotton contraband of war was officially gazetted this morning.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—An imperial ukase issued to day calls out the reserves of several districts with a view of completing units to be sent to the far east from the military districts of Kiev and Moscow.

MOST IMPORTANT NEWS.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—The most important news from the front is that telling of the complete re-establishment of railroad and telegraphic communication with Port Arthur, though how it was brought about and whether a battle was necessary to accomplish it are mysteries which Alexieff failed to clear up. The relation of the authorities is sobered by official dispatches showing activity of Japanese in eastern Manchuria. Kuang-Gen-Sin, fifty miles north of Feng Wang Cheng, was occupied by Japanese May 5. This enables an advance along the road to flank either at Liao Yang or Mukden. The territory between the main road to Feng Wang Cheng and the Yalu river have been penetrated by such a strong force of Japanese as to lead to the suggestion that another army has landed at Takushan, of which the outside world has not before heard.

St. Petersburg, May 10.—Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff, commander of the first Siberian army corps, in a telegram to the general staff dated May 8, says the Japanese have occupied Feng Wang Cheng, are remaining there and are making reconnaissances of the main road to Liao Yang and both flanks of the road. On May 5, he says, the Japanese occupied Hsueh Tung Sia, fifty miles northeast of Feng Wang Cheng.

PROBABLY BEEN FIGHTING.

St. Petersburg, May 11.—There has probably been fighting, but whether with Japanese vessels or with troops north of Pitsewo is not known, nor have the whereabouts of the Japanese who landed on the southern part of Liao Tung peninsula been definitely established. It is safe to say, however, no engagement has occurred in order to restore communication. Undoubtedly news of such activity would have been made public promptly owing to the temper of the people to night.

AN EXPLANATION.

London, May 11.—An explanation of the restoration of the Port Arthur railway suggested here is that the handling of Japanese at Pitsewo was interrupted by a gale and compelled their temporary retirement to the coast, or that the Japanese are allowing the line to remain open for the removal of non-combatants from Port Arthur prior to bombardment. According to telegram from Shanghai Kuropatkin is making a general concentration of troops at Miao Tien Lung pass, where the next great battle is expected but take place.

DIFFERENT OPINION

Vicksburg Incident Brought up Again by Report of Russian Official.

Washington, May 10.—The attention of the bureau of navigation of the navy department was called to day to the official report of the minister to Corea, which was gazetted in the Official Messenger, stating that the commander of the Vicksburg refused, after the engagement at Chemulpho, to take aboard his vessel wounded men from the Russian warships Varag and Korietz. The bureau produced extracts from the report of Commander Marshall, commanding the Vicksburg, which officials regard as a complete rebuttal. This extract, after telling of the battle and of boats from the Vicksburg rescuing men from the sinking Varag, says:

"Two Russian officers (engineers), were brought on board the Vicksburg and taken care of for some time and on my offering to have the Zafiro used as a temporary quarters they were taken to the Zafiro and their captain declined my offer with thanks."

It is pointed out by the chief of navigation bureau that the Zafiro, which was tendered as a hospital ship, is a clumsy naval transport and was much more suitable for the accommodation of wounded than the little Vicksburg with its compact quarters.

GERMAN CRUISERS.

St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, May 10.—Four German cruisers which were to have sailed to day for Newport News will leave instead for Port au Prince, Hayti. It is reported a revolution has broken out there.

CHIEF ENGINEER PANAMA CANAL

ILLINOIS MAN SECURES THE APPOINTMENT

Position Tendered and Accepted by John P. Wallace, General Manager of Illinois Central—His Work.

Chicago, May 10.—John P. Wallace, general manager of the Illinois Central, has been tendered and has accepted the position as chief engineer of the Panama Canal. The appointment takes effect June 1, and the salary is to be $25,000 a year.

The selection of Wallace was decided upon by the canal commission during their recent trip to Panama and a letter was written to Wallace asking him to meet the commissioners in New York on their return. Subsequently there was correspondence with President Fish, of the Illinois Central, who spoke of Wallace as follows:

"There is no professional engineer in my acquaintance, who, I think, has to a higher degree than Mr. Wallace, special commercial and diplomatic tact which I conceive will be required. He not only has commercial sense, but also has very rare capacity in dealing with men, whether they be above him, his peer or under him. It goes without saying that he is upright and downright."

Fish was very unwilling to have Wallace leave the company, but the appointment having been tendered, left the decision to Wallace entirely. In reaching the conclusion to accept Wallace gave up his prospects of promotion and a much higher salary than $25,000 a year, but by taking the position of chief engineer of the canal his name will be attached to the greatest piece of construction ever undertaken. It is estimated two years will be required to complete surveys, make estimate of costs and decide on the final plans. In round figures the canal will cost $200,000,000 and will require ten years to complete. Aside from engineers, machinists and other skilled labor, other constructive work will give employment to 25,000 men.

Possibly the most important qualifications possessed by Mr. Wallace is his ability and tact in the management of men. For several years all questions involving labor and control of labor organizations in the entire system of the Illinois Central have devolved upon Wallace for settlement. The twenty-three different labor organizations found among employees of the Illinois Central have always had most explicit confidence in his decisions. As evidence of this, it can be stated that they have never in a single instance appealed from his decisions to higher authorities since he has been general manager of the road.

The appointment of Wallace means his practical residence on the isthmus while the canal is being built. He will depart for the scene of his new work almost immediately, probably not later than the middle of June.

John Findlay Wallace was born at Fall River, Mass., and educated as a civil engineer at Monmouth university, Monmouth, Ill., of which his father, Rev. David A. Wallace, was the founder and first president. In 1869 he entered the service of the Carthage & Quincy railroad as roadmaster. In 1870 he was assistant engineer on surveys for the Quincy, Alton & St. Louis railroad. From 1871 to 1875 assistant engineer of the United States engineering corps at Rock Island, Ill. During this time he excavated a channel through the St. Louis chain of rocks by machinery of his own design. Among the pieces of work under Wallace's immediate charge was the removal of the foundation of the original Rock Island bridge, which was the first bridge constructed across the Mississippi river.

In 1879 Wallace was appointed chief engineer of the Peoria & Arlington railway, which was later consolidated with the Iowa Central. He designed a piece for the Peoria bridge and constructed the Santa Fe bridge at Sibley, Mo. He was connected with various important engineering works until 1891, when he was employed by the Illinois Central in connection with the world's fair transportation. He was then appointed chief engineer of the Illinois Central and practically rebuilt that property and placed it in the first ranks of railroad progress in the United States. In January, 1898, he was appointed assistant second vice president. He constructed the Peoria & Omaha railroad, which admitted the Illinois Central to Omaha and Council Bluffs. In January, 1901, he was appointed assistant general manager, he was at the head of the operating department, and in September, 1902, was made general manager.

Wallace's successor as general manager of the Illinois Central will probably be either A. W. Sullivan, I. G. Rawls, or W. J. Harahan.

The first act of the opera is told in the white house where a great social function attended by all the shining lights of the capital is supposed to take place. The second act is laid in the gardens in the rear of the French ambassador's home, where an amusing meeting takes place between the Russian and Japanese ambassadors. It is during a quarrel between the two that Miss McKinley makes her entrance, singing "Karama," a Japanese lullaby, written recently by her and presented to the Japanese ambassador at Washington.

When the opera is produced some of the dignitaries in Washington will either laugh or kick up a whole lot of trouble over the things, for many of them are to be portrayed in comic opera fashion. Miss McKinley will engage her own company.

In North Dakota for Fort Buford project taking water from the Yellowstone river in Montana, the cost will be about $1,200,000. The Bellefource project in South Dakota will cost about $2,100,000. The irrigation planned will cost about $7,000,000 and will require for construction two to three years; they will reclaim, in round numbers 1,000,000 acres of land, all of which will be susceptible of intense cultivation and should be capable of supporting a population of 500,000 or more.

MURRAYVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Interesting Commencement Exercises of the Graduating Class.

One of the most important annual events in the town of Murrayville is the commencement day of her public schools and the present year has been no exception to the rule. The place has been fortunate in having for its principals and teachers persons well qualified for the work—ladies and gentlemen who have had at heart the good of their pupils and were earnest in prosecuting the labor of instruction. It has been the effort of Professor Dial and his assistant, to make the occasion attractive, to inspire the pupils with enthusiasm and an eager desire to learn; to show the way of advancement and inspiration in a manner that will commend itself to the youthful mind and the success they have attained was well proved by the character of the exercises Tuesday night. The Methodist church was thronged for the occasion and showed that a love for the beautiful was being cultivated in a happy manner. The music was superb, the work of the Star quartet being especially commendable. The audience occupied all the available space in the building and was heartily in accord with the spirit of the occasion and showed marked approval of all that was done. The invocation by Rev. H. C. Turner was an earnest plea for the best blessings of the Father above to rest upon the young people soon to begin the battle of life and showed that the reverend gentlemen had a love for the persons who must sooner or later take the places of those now in charge of affairs.

A pleasing feature of the occasion was the fact that the efforts of the graduates were notations instead of the regulation essays so frequently heard at such times. The young gentlemen and ladies spoke in clear, audible tones, indicating that they had been carefully drilled in manner as well as in matter, something far too frequently overlooked in school work. Their manners were easy and graceful and their diction excellent. Of course, it is impracticable to give an outline even of the efforts of each performer suffice to say that all acquitted themselves with great credit and fairly won the diplomas which were presented them. The following was the program:

March.
Invocation—Rev. H. C. Turner.
Music—Star quartet.
Salutatory, Contentment the Cause of Decline—Ethel Rea.
Oration, All Is Not Gold That Glitters—Ida Briggs.

Presentation of diplomas.
Benediction.

The building was tastefully decorated in orange and white, the class colors. Above the stage was an arch bearing the class motto, "Light is Dawning." The program was printed on souvenir handkerchiefs.
A male quartet from Roodhouse, consisting of Messrs. Went, White, Vandborn and Savage, sang most acceptably. Their song, "Old Joe," was loudly cheered and they gracefully responded with a humorous selection. The school board is to be highly praised for their part in the work. The members are: J. K. Cunningham, president; T. J. Beadles, secretary; C. K. Millon.

The members of the class were the recipients of many handsome presents. By request of President Cunningham, the diplomas were presented the class by Rev. H. C. Turner, of Manchester. He made a neat introductory speech, containing much good advice for the young people. During all the eight orations the use of a prompter was not required upon a single occasion.

MY FRIEND FROM ARKANSAW.

One of the most pronounced successes of the past season was Robert Sherman's production of the four act comedy drama, "My Friend From Arkansas." It is again meeting with success this season for people who witnessed it before appreciating it even more and discovering new beauties in the presentation. It is one of those plays that will live for more than one season for it is a clean, healthy play and decidedly interesting. "My Friend From Arkansas" is full of heart interest, rich in comedy and possesses strong scenes. It tells a pretty and strong story in a simple and direct manner, and certainly those who enjoy heart-reaching stories in dramatic form cannot afford to miss seeing it. "My Friend From Arkansas" will be the attraction at the opera house Wednesday, May 11. Prices 10-20-30 cents.

Trials of Motherhood

505 Broad Street.
Philadelphia, Pa., June 12, 1903.
I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant aching bearing-down pain in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui.

Then my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after six weeks I was well. I am now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine. Without it, I would have been a childless, instead of a happy and well mother.

Ans. Fredward Nirdlinger

OBAPLAIN, ST. ANDREW'S ASSOCIATION.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the aching pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

Can you spell Egg-O-See

In a variety of ways. If you will try you can participate in the distribution of the prizes we offer for this, which aggregate

$1,000 IN CASH

Distributed as follows:
To the one sending the greatest variety of spellings.....$100.00
To the second sending the greatest variety of spellings.....75.00
To the third sending the greatest variety of spellings.....50.00
To the fourth sending the greatest variety of spellings.....25.00
To the fifth sending the greatest variety of spellings.....10.00
To the 740 sending the next greatest variety of spellings $1.00.....740.00
Total.....$1000.00

The prizes will be awarded immediately after the close of the contest. Anyone can compete and all have an equal chance of securing one of the big prizes.

The only conditions are that you send in for each five different ways of spelling the word Egg-O-See, one of the little folders, same as used in the school children's contest, found inside of each package of the food, and that you mail your list to the Egg-O-See Co., Quincy, Ill., on or before June 15, 1904. Be sure and write your name and address plainly. The spelling must be such as could properly be pronounced "Egg-O-See." The following are some of the ways the word could be spelled: Egg-O-See, Egg-Oh-Cy, Egg-O-Cee, Egg-O-Sie.

You will find the effort entertaining as well as profitable. The children will find it instructive, but older persons are not barred, and it is permissible to get help from others after you have spelled the word as many ways as you can yourself.

We are doing this so that the merits of Egg-O-See, the best of all flaked wheat foods may be more widely known. Physicians and food experts agree that flaked wheat is the most delicious and healthful of foods. Its good qualities are now universally recognized, and Egg-O-See is practically displacing all similar foods, as your grocer will tell you, because it is superior in quality and flavor, and yet a large package retails for 10 cents.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR THE GREEN PACKAGE. If your grocer does not keep it, send us his name and 10 cents and we will send you a package, prepaid. Address all communications to Egg-O-See, Quincy, Ill.

All installments shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. Jas. H. Dauskin, Commissioner of Special Assessments for East Morton Ave.

Buy HERMAN'S Celebrated Millinery. Best and Cheapest on Earth.

Quality=Cheapness

When a customer has once been educated to quality, he will seldom seek a store that appeals merely to the desire to save pennies.

There are communities where quality arguments would have no weight, but many more could be educated to ward quality if the right arguments were used.

Quality arguments are sometimes slow trade builders, but they build exceeding strong—bargain goods are only a bargain to those who cannot afford the best, but there is generally a hole in the bargain.

If you want simply butter, pay the commission man or jobber's price and get it. If you want absolute purity and perfect flavor, the kind that brings customers back for more, pay more and get more. Quality has been behind every business that has built up a solid reputation.

In connection with her general work as a physician her treatment for appendicitis and hemorrhoids is marvelous. She has a method for dislodging and removing any foreign substance which may be in the vermiform appendix without the aid of the knife. As a surgeon she has proved herself to be very successful, also in the treatment of nervous diseases and female complaints the results are most gratifying. For several years she has been associated in private and hospital practice with the leading physicians and surgeons of St. Louis.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. OLIVER MASON.

GOVERNOR YATES.

As the days go by the situation for Governor Yates improves right along. It now appears that he is to be the man from all that can be learned. Of course there are many opportunities for a misdeal and the appearance of a dark horse, but on the other hand there is every reason to look for the nomination and triumphant election of the gallant young governor of the state. The reception accorded him in Chicago shows how he stands with the people in the great metropolis and he will continue to grow stronger, for his enemies have been silenced by the logic of events, which beats theories all to pieces. He has been held up as a man whom the people would not trust and he has proved himself to be exactly the opposite. His enemies have tried in every way to discredit him and cast a shadow on his name, his reputation, his political sagacity, his record, his private character, but all in vain. As far as a set of prevarications has appeared it has been disproved and now as the time for the nomination draws near the young man who was accused at and called all sorts of belittling names comes triumphantly to the front with the largest number of pledged delegates in the convention and many more which will come to him in due time. All appearances are in his favor and will be plainly agreeable to the great masses if he can succeed in securing the endorsement of the Republican convention and he will be vindicated at the polls in November. If he fails he will have the proud satisfaction of a gallant campaign, honorably conducted and in the face of tremendous opposition. He will have the pleasure of looking back upon a contest in which he was victorious by the plain people in spite of the fact that he was so strenuously opposed in many quarters, in which he had reason to look for different treatment. It cannot be said that money and appointees account for all this. The fact is; there are two sides to this question. When an official makes an appointment he generally disappoints a good many applicants and in the ranks of his opponents it will not be difficult frequently to find many who endorsed his nomination and election but who failed to get a coveted plum and have been changed to bitter enemies. So if we look at the question fairly in any light, whether defeated or nominated, Governor Yates can regard his recent campaign with proud satisfaction and all signs tend to confirm the prediction that he will be named and elected to succeed himself.

THE OUTLOOK.

A careful review of the claims of the various candidates, the actual number of instructed delegates behind each, the probable attitude of the uninstructed delegates, the geographical situation as affecting candidates for minor state offices, possible exchanges made in convention and the situation generally, causes a confident prediction that Gov. Richard Yates will be renominated at Springfield this week.

The fact stands out conspicuously among all the mass of figures contained in the various estimates, that the entire field against Yates has not secured a sufficient number of instructed delegates to have, with all their forces combined, a majority in the state convention, says the Quincey Whig.

In this fact alone Governor Yates and his friends can claim a great victory. The total number of instructed delegates for the various candidates who contested with him for the nomination is 681, divided as follows: Deane, 352; Lowden, 236; Hamlin, 153; Sherman, 32; Warner, 15. This is sixty-nine short of a majority of the convention.

Such a combination would be considered improbable even by the most imaginative political forecaster. Taking Lowden and Warner from the field would leave Deane, Hamlin and Sherman with only 410 instructed votes, should they cling together. If Governor Yates is not renominated on the first ballot, which nearly every one thinks will not settle the contest, he will receive, according to the Whig's estimate, 545 votes outside of Cook county. A few may go to him from Cook on the first ballot. Governor Yates, himself, does not place his first vote as high, thinking it will be about 525. With 525 no effective combination is considered possible that does not include Yates.

The situation is such that the old organization in Cook county can come to Yates and nominate him. Deane's vote can do the same thing. The only question that now seems to exist is: Which will it be?

HENRY M. STANLEY.

Sir Henry Morton Stanley, G. C. B., D. C. L., and L. L. D., the man who found Livingston, who led the expedition which relieved Emin Pasha and brought him out of a howling country through the forests of the Congo, and who at the same time was a brilliant statesman, a successful diplomat, a great explorer, a great soldier, a great writer, a great traveler, a great man of letters, a great man of science, a great man of business, a great man of the world.

got to New Orleans, where he was adopted by a merchant, whose name he took. He served in the Confederate army and as ensign on the ironclad Teconderoga. After the war he went as a newspaper correspondent to Turkey. In 1868 he did his first important piece of newspaper work, going to Abyssinia with the British expedition as correspondent of the Herald. In 1869 James Gordon Bennett started him off for Africa to find Dr. David Livingstone, the explorer and missionary, of whom nothing had been heard for two years. He reached Zanzibar in January, 1871, organized his searching expedition to start for the inland in March with 122 native followers. He found Livingstone at Ujiji, on the shores of Lake Tanganyika, in the following November, furnished him with supplies, explored the lake with him and then left him just as Livingstone started out on his last expedition, in which he died. Stanley got back to England in March, 1872, and found himself famous. The British association entertained him, Queen Victoria sent him a gold and diamond snuff box, and the Royal Geographical society dined him.

In 1873 he was sent to Africa again and explored Lake Victoria Nyanza after great hardships. He decended the Congo in a memorable trip of eight months, and got back to civilization on a Portuguese man of war. He received the cross of the Legion of Honor after that.

Then, in succession, he explored the Congo, and founded the present Congo Free State, and Stanley Pool, on the upper Congo, is named after him. His last great work was the relief of Emin Pasha, who had been left behind in central Africa, when the Mahdi swept over the Sudan, wiping out the outposts of Egyptian civilization. He found Emin and brought him home.

Several notable books of travel and exploration were written by him. After his return in triumph from the rescue of Emin Pasha, he married Miss Dorothy Tennant, the eldest daughter of Sir George Tennant, and an artist of note. He was elected to parliament from the Lambeth division of London and took a prominent part there. He was 63 years of age.

SANGAMON COUNTY.

The decision in the case of the Sangamon county delegates to the Republican state convention is well set forth in the Springfield Journal:

"Sangamon county, unfortunately, is included in the list of counties in which contests have been set up. This contest is due wholly to the unfortunate personal ambition of some of the local leaders of the party who are determined to have their own way, if possible, at whatever cost to the party. When the county central committee of the party in this county met to organize two years ago a resolution was adopted without opposition by the terms of which practically all of the powers of the committee as to the calling of the primaries and conventions this year were delegated without reserve to the chairman of the committee. That official was authorized to appoint a committee to call the primaries and the convention this year and to make all the arrangements therefor and then the county committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman."

"In accordance with this resolution the committee provided for was appointed by the chairman and issued the call for the primaries in the usual form. After the power delegated by the county committee had been exercised and the matter had been disposed of by issuing the call for the primaries and convention, the local members of the Hamilton forces called together members of the county committee and attempted to revoke and rescind the authority granted to the chairman and then issued a call for earlier primaries and another convention. This was practically a bid from the regular primaries and convention duly called under proper authority, and the result was that two conventions were held and two sets of delegates to the state convention were named, as well as two county tickets."

"There is practical agreement between both sides as to the facts herein briefly recited and the issue raised turns mainly upon the question whether the county committee or any other body or person can revoke authority duly granted after it has been exercised properly and the subject has been disposed of. A man who gives another power of attorney to sign his name to a check certainly cannot revoke that authority after the check has been signed and cashed and the county committee was in exactly the same position in this instance. Action taken by a county committee can be reconsidered, of course, before the subject has been disposed of, but the fatal weakness of the case of the Hamilton men in this county is that it rests entirely upon their attempt to revoke delegated power granted properly, after it had been exercised and after the subject had been disposed of. This attempt was in violation of every canon of parliamentary law and of common sense as well, and an impartial consideration of the facts and the questions involved certainly must result in a decision in favor of the Yates delegation from this county."

CURED HIS MOTHER OF RHEUMATISM.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years with rheumatism," says W. H. Howard, of Husband, Pa. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried. In fact, she is never without it now, and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm keeps away the rheumatism she formerly dreaded. I feel that it is all of this drug."

M. A. CASSIDY

Prominent Educator and Superintendent of Schools, Lexington, Ky.

Recommends Vinol as Being the Best Cod Liver Oil Preparation.

There has been of late a good deal of discussion in Jacksonville regarding the merits of cod liver oil preparations, and whether or not cod liver oil and emulsions that upset the stomach have any medicinal virtues. Therefore the following letter will be read with interest:

"I am pleased to state that after using different cod liver oil preparations on the market, I find Vinol to be the best of them all. It is palatable and pleasant to the taste; in fact, the only taste of the cod liver oil is disguised or done away with entirely, and its strengthening properties are truly remarkable.

"It has built up my system, strengthened my nerves; in fact, it has made a new man of me, enabling me to take up my work with renewed energy and vigor, and I heartily endorse Vinol as the most efficacious and agreeable cod liver oil preparation on the market." M. A. Cassidy.

Knowing that Mr. Lee P. Alcott, of this city, guarantees this preparation in the strongest manner possible, he was called upon for information. Said Mr. Alcott: "Vinol I firmly believe is the world's greatest preparation of cod liver oil, for it contains in a highly concentrated form every one of the fifty odd medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, yet is entirely free from oil or grease."

"Vinol is delicious to taste and acceptable to the weakest stomach. It contains no drugs or poisonous ingredients, and there is no necessity for people to load their stomachs with drugs, nauseating oils or emulsions to obtain the curative power of cod liver oil, for it is all contained in Vinol. Vinol is the greatest strength creator and health restorer known to medicine to day. I could quote innumerable instances where it has fortified and built up the system, strengthened the nerves, cured indigestion, chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and incipient consumption, given strength and vigor to the aged, replaced weakness with strength and made the sick well."

"It is for this reason that I offer to give back the money every time if it fails to give satisfaction."—Lee P. Alcott, Druggist.

FATHER SHERMAN

LECTURES AT CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOR

"Papal Heroes of the Nineteenth Century" Discussed in Logical and Forceful Manner by the Eminent Divine Before Large Audience.

A large audience gathered at the Catholic church last evening to hear Rev. Thomas E. Sherman, S. J., lecture upon "Papal Heroes of the Nineteenth Century."

The address was a scholarly and forcible one, the speaker possessing all of his illustrious father's fire and energy. It is a matter of regret that the lecture could not be published in full. A few brief extracts are given below:

"At the dawn of the nineteenth century the world had made up its mind that the papacy was dead and buried. The revolution had done its work only too well. At last this terrible state of affairs gave place to hope. Venice last year gave up a pope; 100 years ago gave us a chance of having a pope. Dear to the heart of a Catholic as is the chief, dearest is the right to choose a chief."

"At last it was proclaimed that Pius VII was the new pope, but he must not be ordained in public, as the emperor had not sanctioned the election. At this time the sun of Napoleon Bonaparte was rising in its brilliancy, who imagined that a government could be formed without a church. But he finally sent to Rome to have the church sent back into France."

"How was the church to be constituted? All these bishops had to be made over to start afresh. Had any other pope unmade bishops? That was the power and strength shown by Pius when he signed the concordant with Napoleon. It took courage to face the risks of such a step, but the results more than justified the step."

"It would be too long to tell the whole story of the struggle between Napoleon and the church. We will tell but a few of the most important points. If Napoleon had been a gentleman he would have known how to meet the pope. But how did he meet him? Surrounded by his hounds in a muddy road. With the feeling of rapacity that characterized the emperor, instead of allowing the pope to place the crown upon his head, he snatched it from the hands of the pontiff and placed it upon his own head, proclaiming himself a self-crowned upstart."

"Napoleon's younger brother, sailing the western sea, met at Baltimore a beautiful maiden, a Protestant, whom he married, with the permission of the bishop of Baltimore. Napoleon tried to have the marriage annulled, but the pope inquired into the matter and said he could see no reason why the marriage should be annulled. He took the risk of antagonizing the whole world for the sake of a single Protestant girl. So, in the whole course of the existence of the church, it would ever incur the enmity of the whole world for the sake of preserving from harm a single woman; standing ever for woman's honor and chastity. In such a land as this with its Mormonism and 'tandem' Mormonism," resulting from the divorce law, would it not be a grand thing for womanhood if the papal power were stronger than it is?

"When the pope promulgated the decree of excommunication against Napoleon, he took upon himself the danger of exile. When soon after the soldiers of the emperor entered Rome and demanded that the pope renounce his temporal power, he stood up in majesty and said that the temporal power was not his, but the church's."

"The pope, being the chosen ruler of hundreds of millions of subjects throughout the world, could he logically be the subject of any petty little prince? If the pope were his subject he would be like a chaplain to a king. He must be either a prince or a subject. You see how absurd it would be for him to be a subject, so he must be a prince. How could we, if the pope were a Canadian, Mexican, Englishman or Irishman, be expected to submit to him? So he must be a prince."

"The question of the temporal power is just as much a question to day as it was 100 years ago. Napoleon left no stone unturned to try to crush the pontiff. We think of the pope as a prisoner now, but then he had nobody about him but hired spies, and was not allowed even his books, and was finally forced by weakening his powers to sign paper giving away the temporal rights of the church."

"When Napoleon was paying six years penance on St. Helena for the six years that he imprisoned the pope he must have thought of the pontiff, whom he so sorely oppressed, and who was a hero of Christ-like meekness."

"I pass to Pius IX. It was in his reign that the temporal power of the pope was finally crushed. He was greeted as a liberal pope. He seemed to be raised on the wave of popular applause, only to be dashed down in disapproval. When Rossi was appointed secretary of state, he was met by a mob of ruffians, who hit him down at the door. Pius IX was forced by the extreme revolutionists to surrender everything. The pope could do nothing but flee, which he did, with great danger to himself, to Naples."

"Here occurred a little event to which I wish to call your special attention. He saw the little blue flag with the little figure on it, and recognized the emblem carried in the crusades, and he then declared that he would make that Mary immaculate and stainless ever, and that article of faith he caused to be incorporated into the compulsory rules of the church. But, perhaps you say, was not this an invention of the pope's? By no means. He merely brushed away the clouds of doubt that had obscured the true character of the stainless one and reaffirmed an ever-existing truth."

"The pope was restored by the efforts of the nations, and in the so-called union of Italy he lost that power again. It is too long a story to tell, and I will pass hurriedly over it."

"Pius IX has a greater honor than that of standing off his enemies to the last ditch. It was 300 years since the bishops of the world had met in universal council. So Pius decided to draw together the golden threads of the church, to brush away the troubles brought on by the revolution. The whole world threatened destruction to the papacy, but Pius withstood the storm and assembled the council. It was at this council that the fact of the infallibility of the pope was clearly promulgated, thus setting into prominence a great truth hitherto obscured."

"Leo XIII came into power in circumstances as gloomy as those at the beginning of the nineteenth century. The papacy was little more than a name, the pope a prisoner. He was a little man, 68 years of age, and of feeble strength, but by his superb statesmanship he brought to the emperor and Bismarck the necessity of his friendship to the peace of the empire. He took the tiara from the mud and lifted it to greater heights than it had been for a century. He stood as a teacher sent by Christ to teach to the world."

"If there is liberty in the world, liberty in America, the popes have given it to us. Thirty of them died the deaths of martyrs, while all the rest have suffered indignities, privations and exile. It is to the glory and honor of all people that such men have lived."

Previous to the lecture a musical program was given, including solos and choruses.

TAKING DESPERATE CHANCES.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of colds, can be had for a trief. For sale by all leading druggists.

On account of the death of Miss Nora Vines the Needle Work club will not meet this week.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. Send for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Then you are on the downward road to poor health. Get on the upward road. Dr. McLean's book tells you how to regain lost health or to retain the health you have.

Dr. J. L. McLean has prepared many remedies to help those who suffer. One of them is

ACADEMY ALUMNAE

Important Business Meeting Held Tuesday—Strong Resolutions Passed.

The Alumnae of the Jacksonville Female academy held a called business meeting at Academy hall Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 and adopted the following resolutions.

Miss Johanna DeLeuw, president of the Alumnae association, presided and Miss Laura McDonald, the recording secretary, took the minutes.
There was a large attendance and the resolutions were passed by unanimous vote.

THE RESOLUTIONS

The Alumnae called in special meeting May 10 to consider the welfare and future usefulness of their Alma Mater, present the following resolutions to the trustees of Illinois college and the Academy for Young Women. Believing that "a penny wise and pound foolish policy" will kill any school, no matter what its honorable history may be, and yet appreciating the lack of funds under which your honorable body is laboring, we desire to lay before you certain facts.

One year ago at the beginning of the experiment of co-education there was the promise of only one single student for the academy. Through the personal efforts and influence of Dr.
Sherzer, so well chosen by your honorable body to be the dean of the academy, ninety-three young women students are now upon your register.
A record unprecedented in the history of a first year's experiment in co-education. Where many other institutions have failed utterly, ours has made a phenomenal success. The intercourse of young people on the hill has been dignified, cordial and pleasant. The ninety-three young women students have more than paid the expenses of the running of our part of the firm. Is it not just? Is it not cut out of the head of our institution in the interest of economy? The source of our revenue in the past and with the promise of greater needs in the future.

The expenditure of $1,000 more upon improvements at the academy last fall than was deemed absolutely necessary by the Alumnae at the present time, considering the financial condition of both the college and academy, and unknown and unapproved by Dean Sherzer, which money it saved, would have been more than ample to have paid the salaries of all the present faculty for the coming year.

In consideration of the facts above mentioned, we respectfully submit the
following resolutions:

Be it Resolved, That you appoint a committee on finance or a prudential committee as your charter grants you to do, and superintend the spending of all money more wisely in the future.

Be it further resolved, That you reconsider the decision to dispense with the services of Dean Sherzer
the coming year, and also.

Be it resolved, That your honorable body considering the academy to a committee chosen from the board of trustees and the Alumnae association giving them the privilege of sub-letting to Dr. Sherzer, and also.

Be it resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be given to Rev. Clifford Barnes, president of the board of trustees of Illinois college, a copy be spread upon our records and a copy be sent to each of the daily papers. Respectfully submitted.

Mary Turner Carrier
Anna H. M. Sharpe
Elizabeth De Motte Carter
Committee.

THE DEATH RECORD.

LEWIS.

M. S. Lewis, one of the prominent citizens of Prentice, dropped dead Tuesday morning at his home while seated in a chair. He had been a sufferer for some time with rheumatism but lately had been able to be around and seemed to be improving.

The deceased was born in Pennsylvania, and was about 50 years of age. He has been for many years a resident of Prentice and has been at times extensively engaged in farming but in recent years has retired from active duty. He was well known and highly respected by all. He bore a reputation for honesty and good will among all his fellowmen that held him in high standing with them.

He is survived by his wife and six children, C. R. Lewis, of Prentice; Harry Lewis, of Alexander; Mrs. G.
Graff, of Chicago; Mrs. Joseph Winkley, of Prentice; Mrs. Isaac
Bennett, of Waverly and Mrs. W. A.
Malone, of Orleans.

The funeral will be conducted from the M. E. church at Prentice this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SMITH

George Smith died at his home on Marion street at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. He was born Aug. 20, 1850, in Marion county, Ky., and has resided in Jacksonville for twenty five years. He leaves one son, one brother, two sisters and many other relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the A. M.
E. church, in charge of Rev. Mr.
Larkley.

Deceased was for many years a resident of this city and was always known as an honest and industrious man. His death will be mourned by many outside of his immediate family.

BRECKON

The following account of the sad and untimely death of William Jordan Breckon is taken from the Independent (N. D.) Recorder. His father, William Breckon, lived near here for many years and was well known to many of the older settlers:

"On Monday evening as the sun was slowly sinking in the west the son of William Jordan Breckon was called to his eternal home without a minutes warning.

News of the sad event spread quickly about the city and was a distinct and severe shock to the many friends and acquaintances of the deceased, whose apparent good health previous made it difficult to believe that he had so suddenly been called away.

Mr. Breckon came in from his run as cousin on the road on Sunday evening, remaining home until Monday when about 6:30 p. m. he went down to the postoffice to get the mail. On returning about thirty minutes later he stopped to view the building repairs at the Episcopal church, and upon starting home fell dead,
a few feet from the church, of heart failure.

He had been called to his run Monday afternoon but asked to be excused as he was not feeling well, stating at the same time he would go if no one could be found in his place. Foreman White granted his request and permitted him to stay home. He complained a little that day of having pains around his heart but did not to all appearances consider them at all serious, as he had experienced similar trouble at times last summer.

Mortally stricken, he neither spoke or gave a sign. He was immediately carried to the home of A. L. Dickinson where medical aid was speedily summoned, but all without avail. The messenger had come and William Breckon was beyond reach of mortal assistance.

The shock to his wife, who was standing at the window with baby Frances the idol of papa's life, in her arms watching and waiting for his return, was indeed inexpressible severe, and the scene a pathetic one as she was informed by a lady friend of the news of her husband.

William Gordon Breckon was born at Muskatine, Iowa, Dec. 10, 1868, and came to Dickinson in the summer of 1892, where he has since resided with the exception of a few months spent in Missouri. After coming to Dickinson he worked on the road as extra fireman and continued to act in that capacity until the fall rush was over when he accepted a position on the Recorder which he very acceptably filled until the spring work opened on the road when he again took up that work. His card from the Chicago typographical union, of which he was a member, showed that he was a professional at the business and had a thorough knowledge of literary work although he did not care to follow it.

On Oct. 1, 1902, he was married to Miss Chara Green and their union since has indeed been a happy one; no cruel or harsh words ever having passed their lips to each other, but on the contrary they lived as sweethearts always. Nine months ago a dear little girl, Frances Eleanor, came to bless their home and add more sunshine to their already happy matrimonial life, as this she did for she was her papa's joy and idol, as she is now her mamma's comfort and companion.

Deceased leaves in addition to his wife and baby, a widowed mother, Mrs. Frances Breckon, who arrived, broken hearted, this (Thursday) afternoon from Chicago, two sisters, Mrs. Katherine Tambora, of Muskatine, Iowa, and Mrs. A.
S. Foreman, of Chicago, and a brother Charles Breckon, engaged in newspaper work in Chicago.

Among his co-workers and friends—
and all his acquaintances were friends—
"Bill," as he was familiarly known, was loved and honored. He was ever gentle, although quiet and unassuming, kind, considerate, and sympathetic, the soul of true manhood, always ready to offer a helping hand to those in need,
and the hours spent with him in social intercourse will always be with those who knew him as a true and cherished memories. To him his home was a sacred refuge from the outer world, his wife, child and aged mother were his idols

and to them he gave the purest devotion of a true man, loving husband, father and son.

It was indeed heartrending to see the fond old mother as she gazed upon her boy's cold, upturned face for the first time, after a long wearisome journey in grief almost unbearable, say, "Will, my dear boy, you were always good, never caused me any trouble, and I have no regrets except that you are gone." Expressions of sympathy in such an hour are feeble, and the bereavement of that family is inexpressible sad, but we speak for all Dickinson when we say that the most profound sorrow and sympathy is felt for them in this the most terrible of all trials and may God help them to bear the grief so hard.

The floral tributes many and beautiful literally covering the casket, told in a measured way the esteem in which the deceased was held and spoke volumes that words could never express. A quiet and evergreen emblematic of the Maiden order,
a beautiful pillow bearing the R. of L. E.
initials, of which order the deceased was a member, a basket of white lilies from the ladies of St. John's guild and numerous individual offerings were among the floral tributes.
